SPECIAL NOTICE---It has been four years since the death of our Westcott Society founder, Roscoe L. Whitman of Westfield, New Jersey, who passed away on September 3rd, 1955. Since he gave so many years to our Society, the Society decided last year to have a plaque made for his tombstone.

A letter was received from Mr. Whitman's daughter, Dorothy Potter, that her family had received the plaque and were very pleased, and thought it would be nice if the cousins could meet at her father's grave to dedicate the plaque. After the dedication, Mrs. Potter has asked the cousins to her home for tea. In her words, "September 25th would have been father's 90th

CHAPTER NEWS---Rhode Island Chapter No. 2-from Dolly M. Stone, Secretary

"The summer meeting of the Rhode Island Chapter of the Society of Stukely Westcott Descendants took place in Newport, Rhode Island, on May 23rd, 1959, at the newly restored White Horse Tavern (built 1687). A delightful luncheon was enjoyed by 20 members and guests. The report of the fall meeting of 1958 was read and approved. CHAPTER NEWS---Rhode Island Chapter No. 2 (Continued)

The election of officers was held and the same slate of officers was re-elected with the exception of the Secretary, Olive Shippee, who is moving to Georgia. Dolly Stone was appointed in her place. It was decided to ask Bertha Anthony to be registrar and historian.

It was suggested that our fall meeting be held at the Old Slater Mill, Pawtucket, Rhode Island and a committee to be appointed then for the National Society meeting.

There was an ovation for the Shippee's. They have been a vital part of our organization.

Mr. Robert Kerr II, of the Preservation Society of Newport spoke to us about restoration work now being done in Newport and plans for future preservation. He mentioned that the White Horse Tavern is their latest accomplishment. There are over 400 houses dated before 1830 still standing in Newport.

Respectfully,

Dolly M. Stone, Secretary"

VACATIONS --- In the Good Old Summer Time!

Mr. & Mrs. William Allport, of St. Petersburg, Florida have spent the summer with their son, George Allport, at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

Mr. & Mrs. William C. Driver, of Larchmont, New York spent a few days at Atlantic City, New Jersey, for the Shriners Convention. In July they spent time in Washington, D. C., where they toured the D. A. R. building.

In August, Mrs. Driver took her mother, to visit in Ocean Grove, New Jersey, for a couple of weeks.

Mr. & Mrs. Ralph D. Trismen and son Bruce, spent the first two weeks in August visiting the Hazards of North Evans, New York and also the Hazard's camp near Parry Sound, in Canada.

Miss Dorothy Wescoat was in England in April and she was going to do some research for the Society but didn't get the time to follow through. She did get names and addresses of about 100 Westcotts with phones in Somerset and Devon. Dorothy suggested that a mimeographed letter to each, setting forth our problem, might unearth some early history.

Mr. & Mrs. Edward R. Marroquin visited their daughter, Joyce and her husband, Dick Thronson in Rochester, New York, the last week in July.

Mr. & Mrs. Samuel Dorfler spent the summer at their cottage at Arnold's Lake, Milford, New York.

LETTER FROM EDITH REY --- Of Columbus, Ohio

"Dear Cousin, I am sorry to be so late in sending my dues to the Westcott Society, but now, I will send this fine new bill for 5.00 to apply to my dues for the near future years. It seems to be difficult for me to get the things done that I most want to do, so I will make this time count for five years, for, I do appreciate the Family News as it comes in the Quarterly.

I am proud to find that I am a member of this family. My mother was a first cousin of Lulu Burgen. I am a first cousin, once removed.

I taught school for fifty years, from the first grade through all the twelve grades, also in English, at Iowa Wesleyan College where my husband was head of the Romance Language Department, for three years.

> Sincerely, Edith Rey."

NOTE FROM MARY WESCOTT --- Of North Castine, Maine.

"Dear Cousins, I still miss the very folksy get-togethers we so enjoyed in Chicago.

But after all, this is home and the new and old friends have been so kind. Maybe I will be in Chicago in the fall and if I am, I'll try to contact some of you.

Just around here there are a lot of Wescotts, some are related and came here from Rhode Island and Truro on Cape Cod. Our folks came from Truro.

Don't forget to stop if you are down this way. Love to you all, Cousin Marv."

LETTERS FROM EDITH MARSHMENT---Of East Troy, Wisconsin. "Dear Cousin Alice, Enclosed find check for my dues, if I had not received the Quarterly the other day, the fact I owed, might have been pigeonholed in my desk much longer until I really started desk cleaning.

By the way, this desk of mine could tell quite a story, nothing wonderful to look at, but very old.

It was made by Darius Knight, the grandson of Lydia Westcott Stone, for his sister Irene. I have never counted the kind of woods in it. Governor Winthrop style, the front with two heavy drawers, real beautiful curly maple, the pull down lid and narrow top, of cherry, and the sides walnut, there are many other kinds of wood inside the desk. I had it restored as much as possible. I inherited it through my grandmother and know it is over 125 years old. Of course, I cherish it.

After my bad heart attacks in 1957, I have come back very well this year, even been able to work among my flowers this spring. I notice there are more members of the Society in the middle

I notice there are more members of the Society in the middle west, you really should bring one of your meetings out this way. There are many lovely shrines and Wisconsin is a beautiful state.

With good wishes to all,

I am sincerely yours, Edith Marshment."

Edith Marshment writes again on July 1st---

"Dear Cousin, My husband and I are quite well now. December 28, 1958 we celebrated our anniversary of fifty-five years together, and I can only use President Eisenhower's reply to the correspondents when they asked him about his 43 years of marriage, "The more years, the happier and closer." Our day was very quiet--just part of our family with us to church and to dinner.

In February I had another bad heart attack and had to have the Rescue Squad and to the hospital for a short time but I was soon back to normal and had no bad effects from it.

Wishing you a very happy summer.

Sincerely yours, Edith Marshment."

HERALDIC INTERPRETATION OF THE WESTCOTT COAT-OF-ARMS---from Mr. Whitman's Genealogy of the Westcott Family.

The Coat-of-Arms used by our Westcott Society was granted to Guido Wescote in the year 1450.

Arms reveal ancient family in England as one of nobility. Royal blood is indicated in Arms because of the tilted crown shown in the helmet. The helmet slightly at profile, indicates the Coat-of-Arms was granted to a Knight or Baronet. The robe or mantling around the helmet and shield, because its effect is ragged, indicates that the first one to wear the Coat-Of-Arms was a battle Knight; also because the two uppermost corners of the mantling turn down, it indicates he was the King's bodyguard, whose members were allowed to keep the collars turned down in the presence of the King. The three vessels or cups on the shield represent three brothers, Guido, Edmund and Nicholas who retained their rightful name, "Wescote". The red band indicates that Guido was accepted as the oldest son. The clasped hands issuing from clouds indicate friendliness and accepted with name "Renovato Nomine," meaning the "name renewed," indicates a rehabilitation of the family.

Note: Son Thomas used the surname, "Littleton" by request of his mother, Lady Littleton who said he would inherit her possessions if he would use her surname. That is the reason that the other brothers, Guido, Edmund and Nicholas decided to keep their own surname of "Wescote", which the Coat-of-Arms indicates.
